MUNT FAMILY

Where did all the Munts go?

A definition first. A 'dead-end' is a tree which has no issue from a known male Munt heir at its bottom. There may be such issue but, if there is, we currently have no information.

The Munt trees start with John Munt died 1564 (Munt tree 01) and Isaac Munt b. 1594 supplementary (Munt tree 01a).

and then go through Thomas Munt b. 1576 and Francis Munt b. 1639 (Munt tree 02).

to Francis Munt b.1700 (Munt tree 03), then to Thomas Munt b. 1729, Francis Munt b. 1735 and Isaac Munt b. 1738, considered after the square bracket next paragraph.

[Ignoring Richard Munt b. 1725 (Munt tree 04-01) a completely different branch of the family with no forebears and Isaac Munt b. 1793 as the only descendant through George Munt b. 1828 down to a 'dead-end' of no known Munt-named descendants.]

First, Thomas Munt b. 1729 (Munt tree 04-02) takes us to only to Thomas Munt b. 1753 (Munt tree 05-01) which goes to Thomas Munt b. 1777 and then via Stephen Munt b. 1802 to George Munt (b. 1842) and thence to George Munt b. 1863; William b. 1869 and Charles Munt b. 1875; all of whom are 'dead-ends'.

Second, Francis Munt b. 1735 (Munt tree 04-03) is another 'dead-end'.

Third, Isaac Munt b. 1738 (Munt tree 04-04) takes us down to Isaak Munt b. 1775, George Munt b. 1780, and James Munt b. 1784, considered below. These are the only ongoing not 'dead-ends'.

The first of these three, Isaak Munt b. 1775 goes via Isaak Munt b. 1797, to John Munt b. 1831, and thence to Henry Munt b. 1863, a 'dead-end' and Charles Munt b. 1877 another 'dead-end'.

The second of these, George Munt b. 1780 goes down to Henry Munt b. 1806; George Munt b. 1808; John Munt b. 1825; and Isaac Munt b. 1827. The first and third are 'dead-ends'. George Munt b. 1808 goes down to George Munt b. 1835; James Munt b. 1837; and William Munt b. 1849, all of whom are 'dead-ends' While Isaac Munt b. 1827 goes down to William Munt b. 1851; Isaac Munt b. 1868; and James Munt b. 1874, all also 'dead-ends'.

So, all these trees end with no ongoing known male Munt heir. There are six un-connected trees later in this document, all of which have no known ongoing male Munt heir.

Is there a reason for this? Nothing is obvious with the trees that lead nowhere. Each tree has approximately the same number of males and females at their end. But there seems a certain reluctance for many of the male heirs to have children, perhaps because this family were mainly labourers and most of the 19th century had an over-supply of labourers, so not a good environment to spawn yet more labourers. Then, there was infant mortality which may have meant that many males did not survive long, although many branches of the family made up for this by having a very large number of children.

As examination of the genealogical records of the 252 Munt family members on the website will show, there are very few Munt records beyond birth dates of the 1920s and 1930s. Was this an effect of a change of attitude after the Great War? But, as we know and after being the most populous family name in Wheatley, there are now very few, if any, Munts in Wheatley and Littleworth.

Further information can be gleaned from the 1911, 1921 and 1939 censuses related to the foregoing Munt trees as follows

Thomas Munt, Mary Munt and Isaac Munt (as well as Elizabeth not on this tree) may have been involved with the early days of the Red Lion pub, Blenheim (now the New Club) record 0306.

But before considering the three continuing trees, another branch of the family with a starting point of Richard Munt, b. 1725 also comes into being as Munt tree 04-01

There are three male descendants, Thomas b. 1729, Francis b. 1735 and Isaac b. 1736 who are now traced through Munt tree 04-02, Munt tree 04-03 and Munt tree 04-04

He is also, on the 1803 Pay List of the Cuddesdon Company of Volunteers (with also Joseph and George, more likely to be held in Cuddesdon records rather than Wheatley).

George Munt tree b. 1808

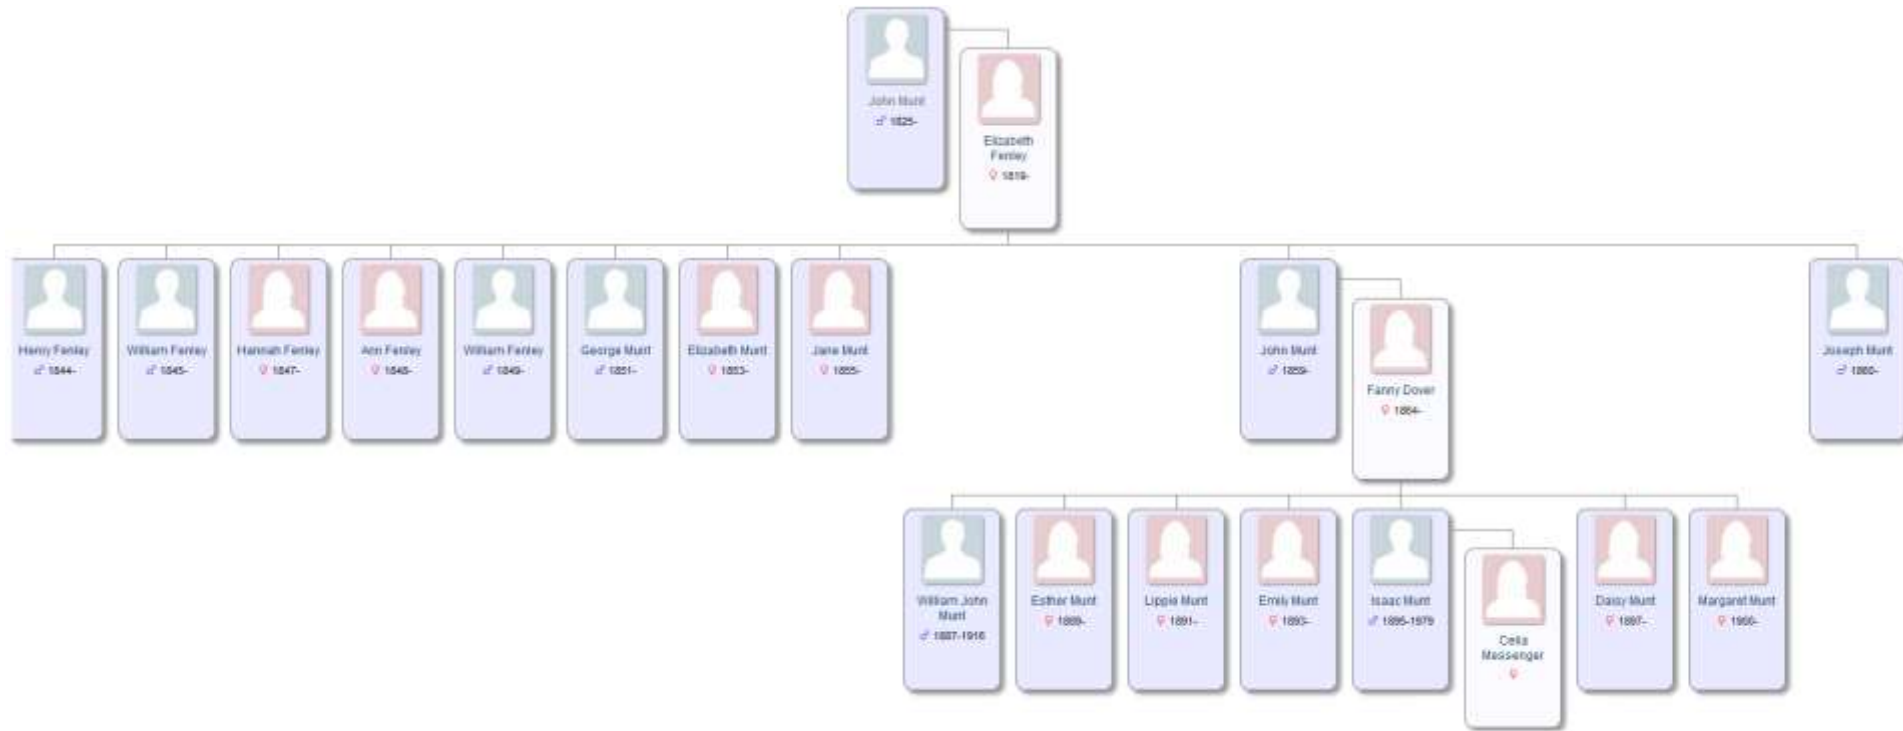

George is continued as George Munt b. 1835 tree, James is continued as James Munt b. 1837 tree, William is continued as William Munt b. 1849 tree.

In 1910, three members of the Munt family occupied holdings for their market gardening business on the north and south sides of the High Street, in its centre, as shown on the map. 538 was owned by James Munt senior (1837-1922) widower (tree above), age 73; 539 owned by Thomas Munt, age 33 (see James Munt b. 1837 tree, the youngest child of James Munt senior), Site 484 which is now shops, was owned by James Munt, age 50 (see James Munt b. 1837 tree, the second oldest child of James Munt, senior). It is speculated that this may have been the main produce centre suggesting a pick-your-own approach? The two plots on the north are numbers 539, 538. Site 537 is the White Hart to the east, and Lynton House (535) is to the east of this.

James Munt senior, also owned and occupied the 20³/₄ acre Bullsdown.

John Munt tree b. 1825

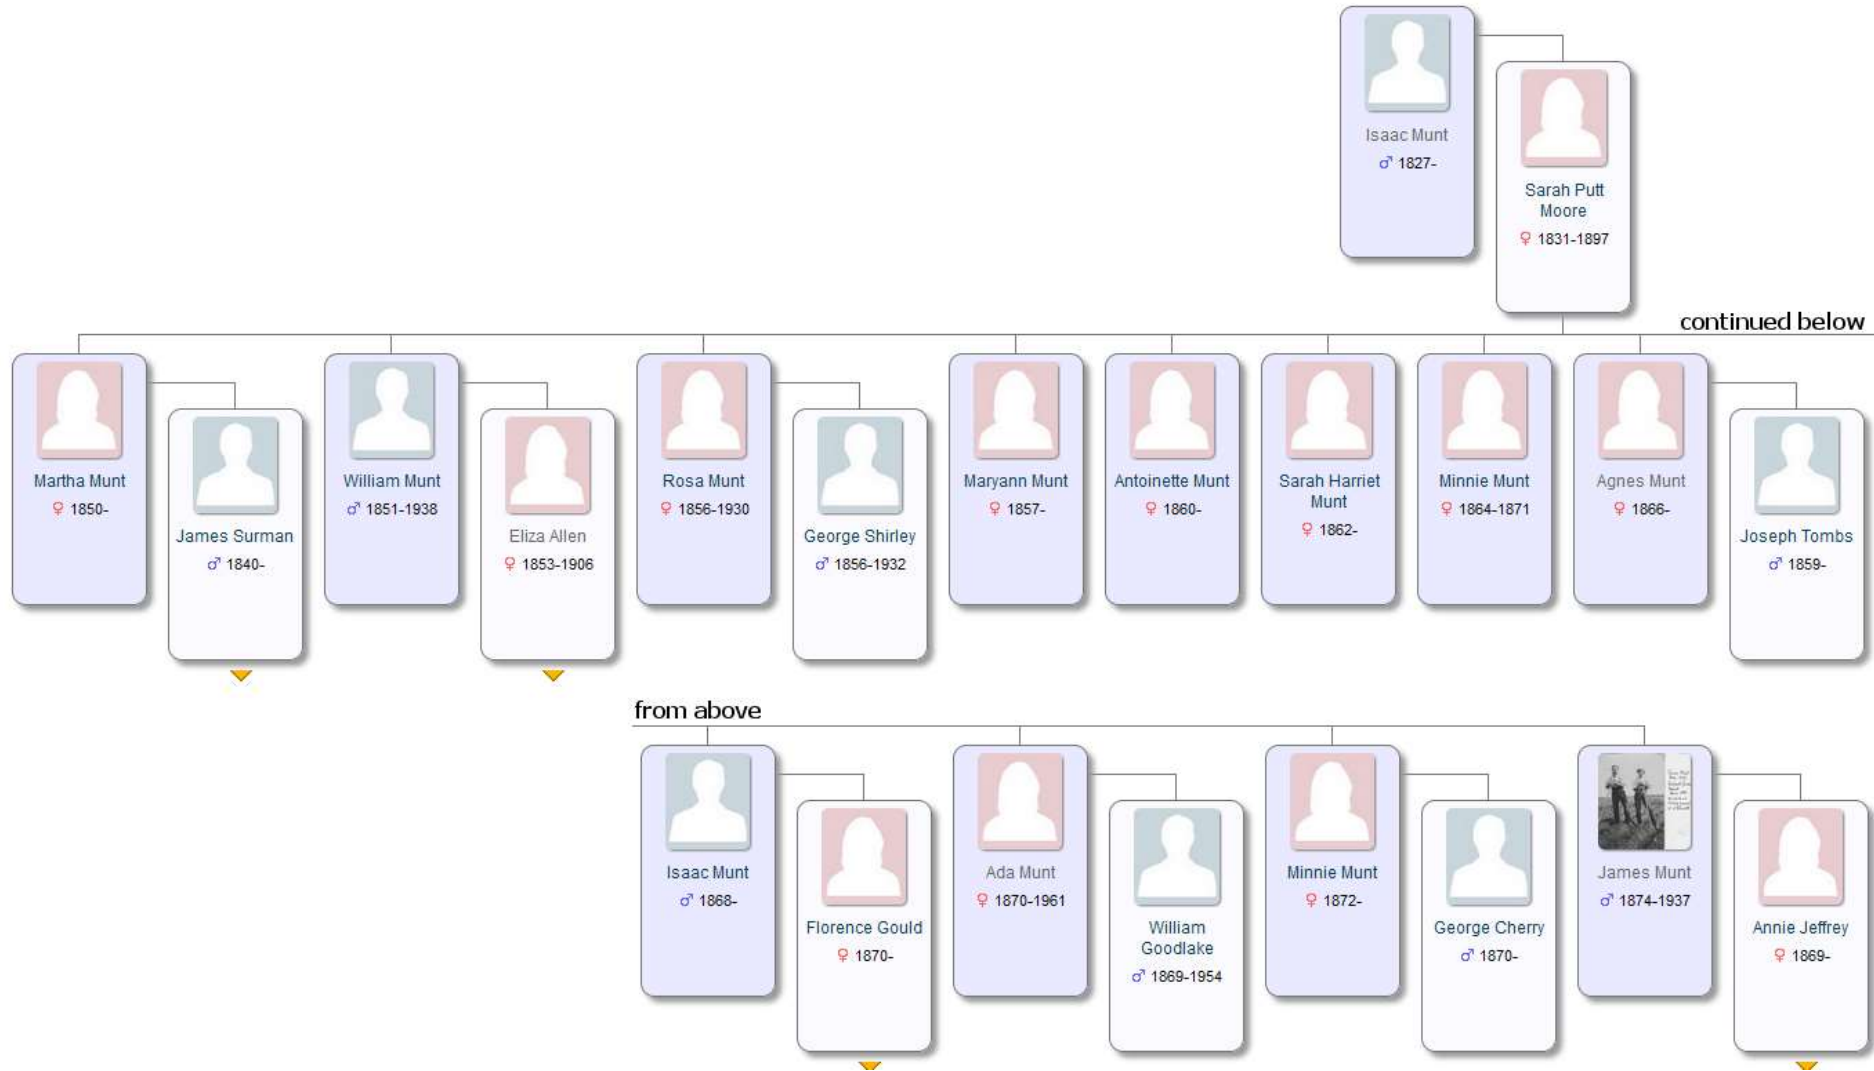

William Munt, William John Munt often known just as John Munt, born in 1887, lost his life in the Great War. He served with the 11th battalion in the Royal Fusiliers, and died of his wounds on 2 November 1916 following the offensive on the Somme. His father, John Munt, was a farm labourer living in Littleworth. William John was living with his uncle in Wellingborough where they were both ironstone workers. William is remembered on page 74 of They Were a Wall.

Isaac Munt was born in Littleworth in 1895, son of John Munt, farm labourer and Fanny, nee Dover, both also born in Littleworth and living there in 1901 and 1911. Brother of William John Munt. In 1911 Isaac, too, was a farm labourer. There is an Isaac Munt listed in the WW1 Medal Rolls Index, as a Private in the Royal Warwickshire Regiment, No. 34779. When he married Celia Messenger in June 1931, he gave his occupation as engine driver. This was a second marriage for both of them as their previous partners were deceased. Of the thirty-one members of the wider Munt family living in Wheatley and listed in the 1921 Electoral Register, two were Isaac Munts, in Littleworth. Isaac Munt, b. 1895 died in 1979 and is buried in St Mary's churchyard.

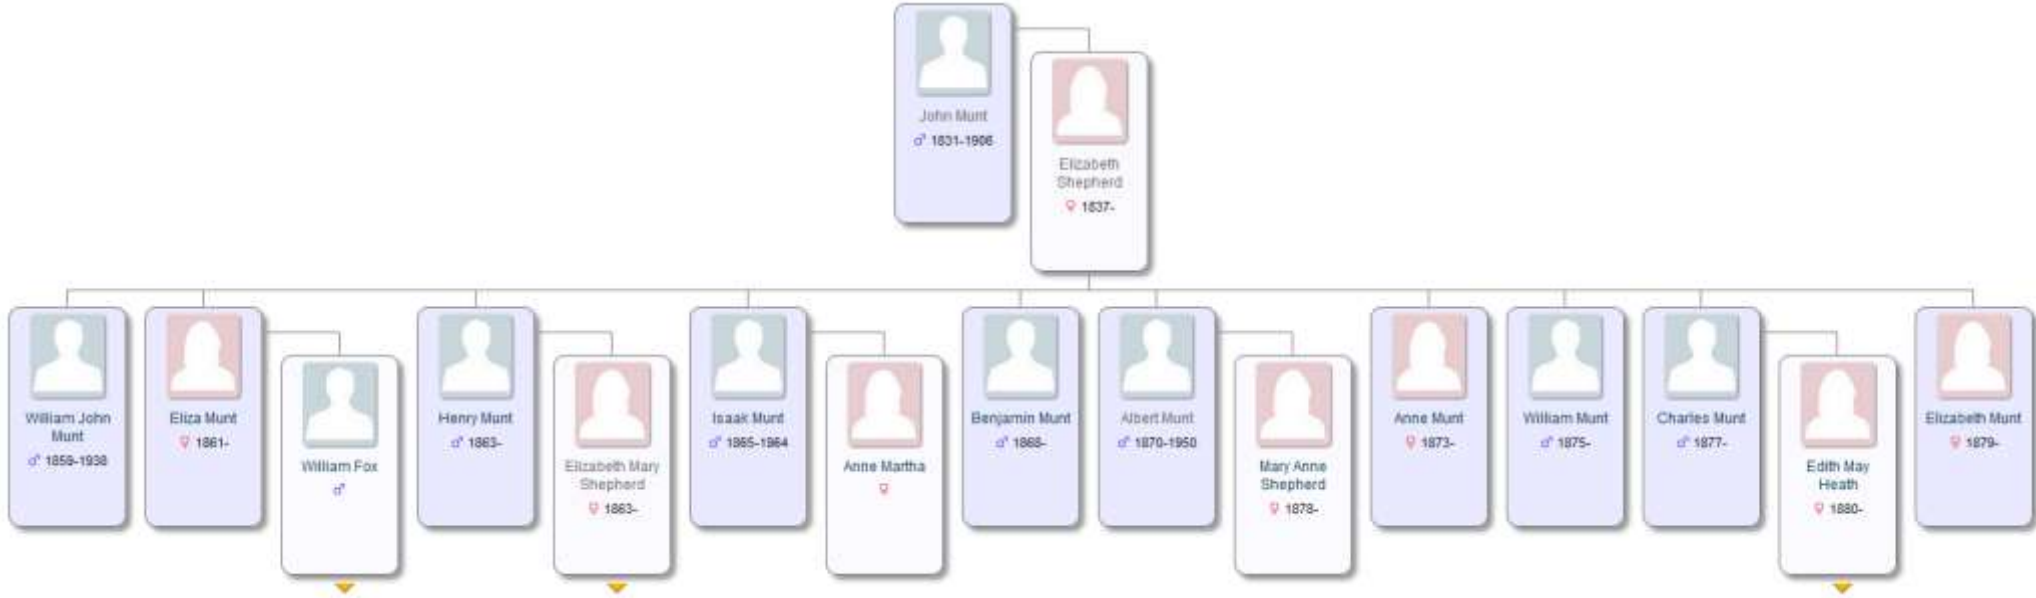

He lived in Littleworth, probably No. 36. No descendants of Isaac and Celia Messenger are shown/known.

James Munt, 1837-1922, is referred to in the earlier tree as the owner of one of the High Street sites for the Munt market-gardening business. His youngest child, Thomas b. 1877, owned another of these sites. The site, now the parade of shops, was owned by the second son, James b. 1861, in the above tree

According to The High Street, Wheatley booklet, Herbert Munt (1869-1939) was the owner of Fairholme, 4 High Street in 1926 and Old Timbers, 6 High Street in 1929 and 1937.

George Munt tree b. 1842

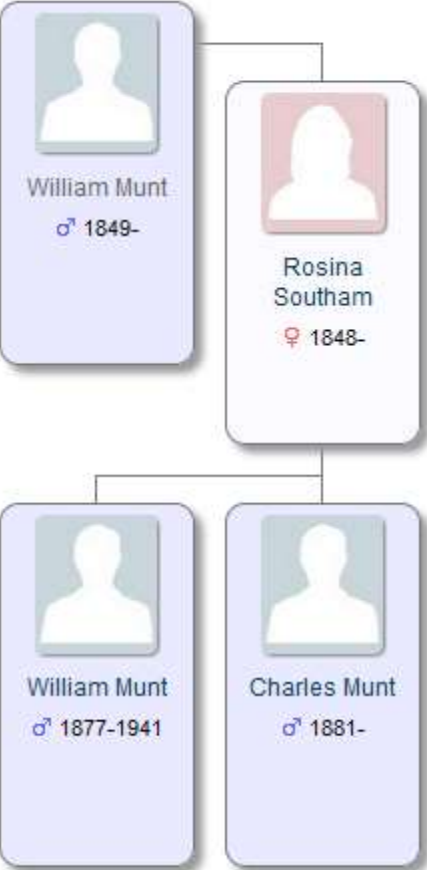

Thomas Munt, Thomas Henry Munt born in 1883, lost his life in the Great War. He served with the 1/6 battalion in the Royal Warwickshire Regiment, and died of his wounds on 23 August 1916 following the offensive on the Somme. His father, George Munt, was a railway worker plate-layer and ganger. The family were living in Littleworth and, by 1901, Thomas had become a labourer. Thomas is remembered on page 73 of They Were a Wall alongside his nephew, Alfred James Munt, also killed in the Great War.

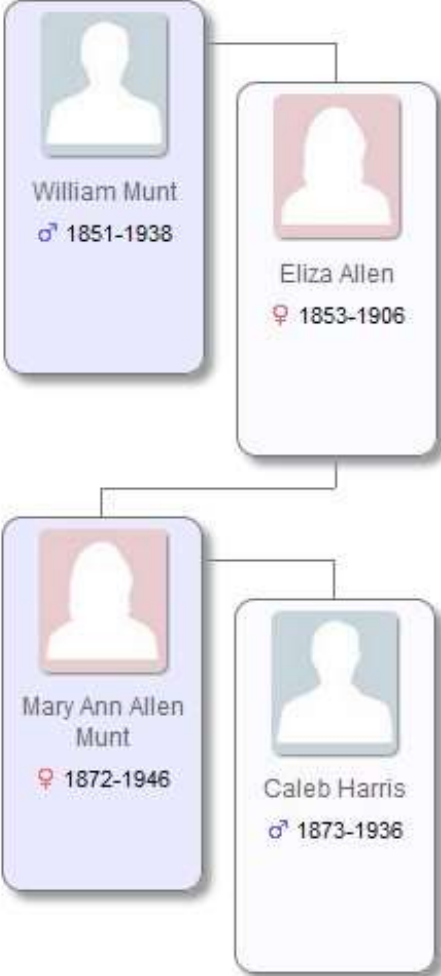

Matthew Munt b. 1884 appears on the 1921 census but not the 1911 one.

Mary Elizabeth Munt, wife of Ernest Alfred Munt

Edgar (ref I2428) is shown as having no issue. Both the 1921 and 1939 censuses have an Edgar b. 22/4/1887 living (1939) just south of Wheatley House with Elizabeth b. 15/6/1886, probably his mother although the birth date varies.

Ernest Alfred is on the 1921 census but not 1939. His and Mary's son, Henry Ernest Munt, slipped into a boiling copper on August 24 1925, scalded his leg and died 3 days later.

Ethel Mary Munt had an apparently bastard son Leslie Ewart Munt, born 1911 and shown on the 1921 census. Only female descendants.

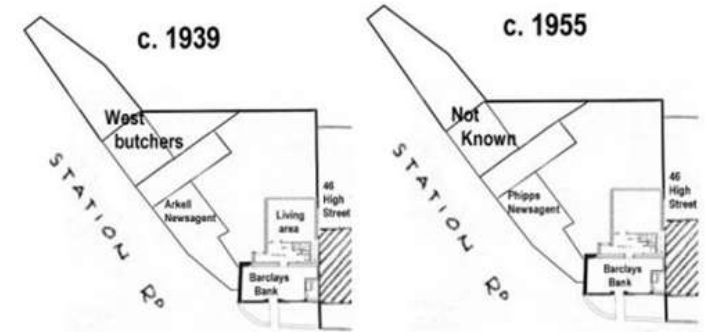

Joan and Sylvia are shown under Rolfe Munt, not Munt

Henry Munt tree b. 1863 cont'd

Henry Munt, who was a shopkeeper in 1931, according to the Kelly Directory of that year, married Elizabeth Mary Shepherd in the late 1880s. Their second child, Mabel Munt was born in 1889. Mabel Munt married Philip Thomas Crook (born in Fulham and probably not related to the quarry owner John Crook) on 10 February 1912, with Henrietta Elizabeth Sophia Crook born in August 1912, and Mabel Ruth Elsie Crook born on 24 January 1915, with her mother dying in this childbirth. Mabel Ruth Elsie Crook married William Henry Phipps on 5 August 1935. They had two daughters Eileen and Jackie.

It is believed that Arkell was occupying part of the Station Road frontage in c. 1939, which was taken over by c.1955 by William Phipps.

Barclays was to move to a new building adjacent to the Merry Bells in 1960, when Phipps made a planning application for the entire site of 48 High Street and 2-4 Station Road seeking permission to demolish the 48 High Street frontage (leaving the substantive side and back walls), to remove the thatch, and to change the use from a bank to a shop.

Henry Munt tree b. 1863 cont'd

Also, in archive record 0267, there are photos of Mr & Mrs Edgar Munt with their horses pulling a gypsy caravan, one outside the Old Post Office, 48 High Street at the 1935 Silver Jubilee. Horses usually pulled the dustcart, the rubbish from which was tipped into the village pit, a place remembered for the rats and the smell which was particularly bad when the rubbish was burnt. The horses were also used for hauling heavy loads for Cullum's timber yard.

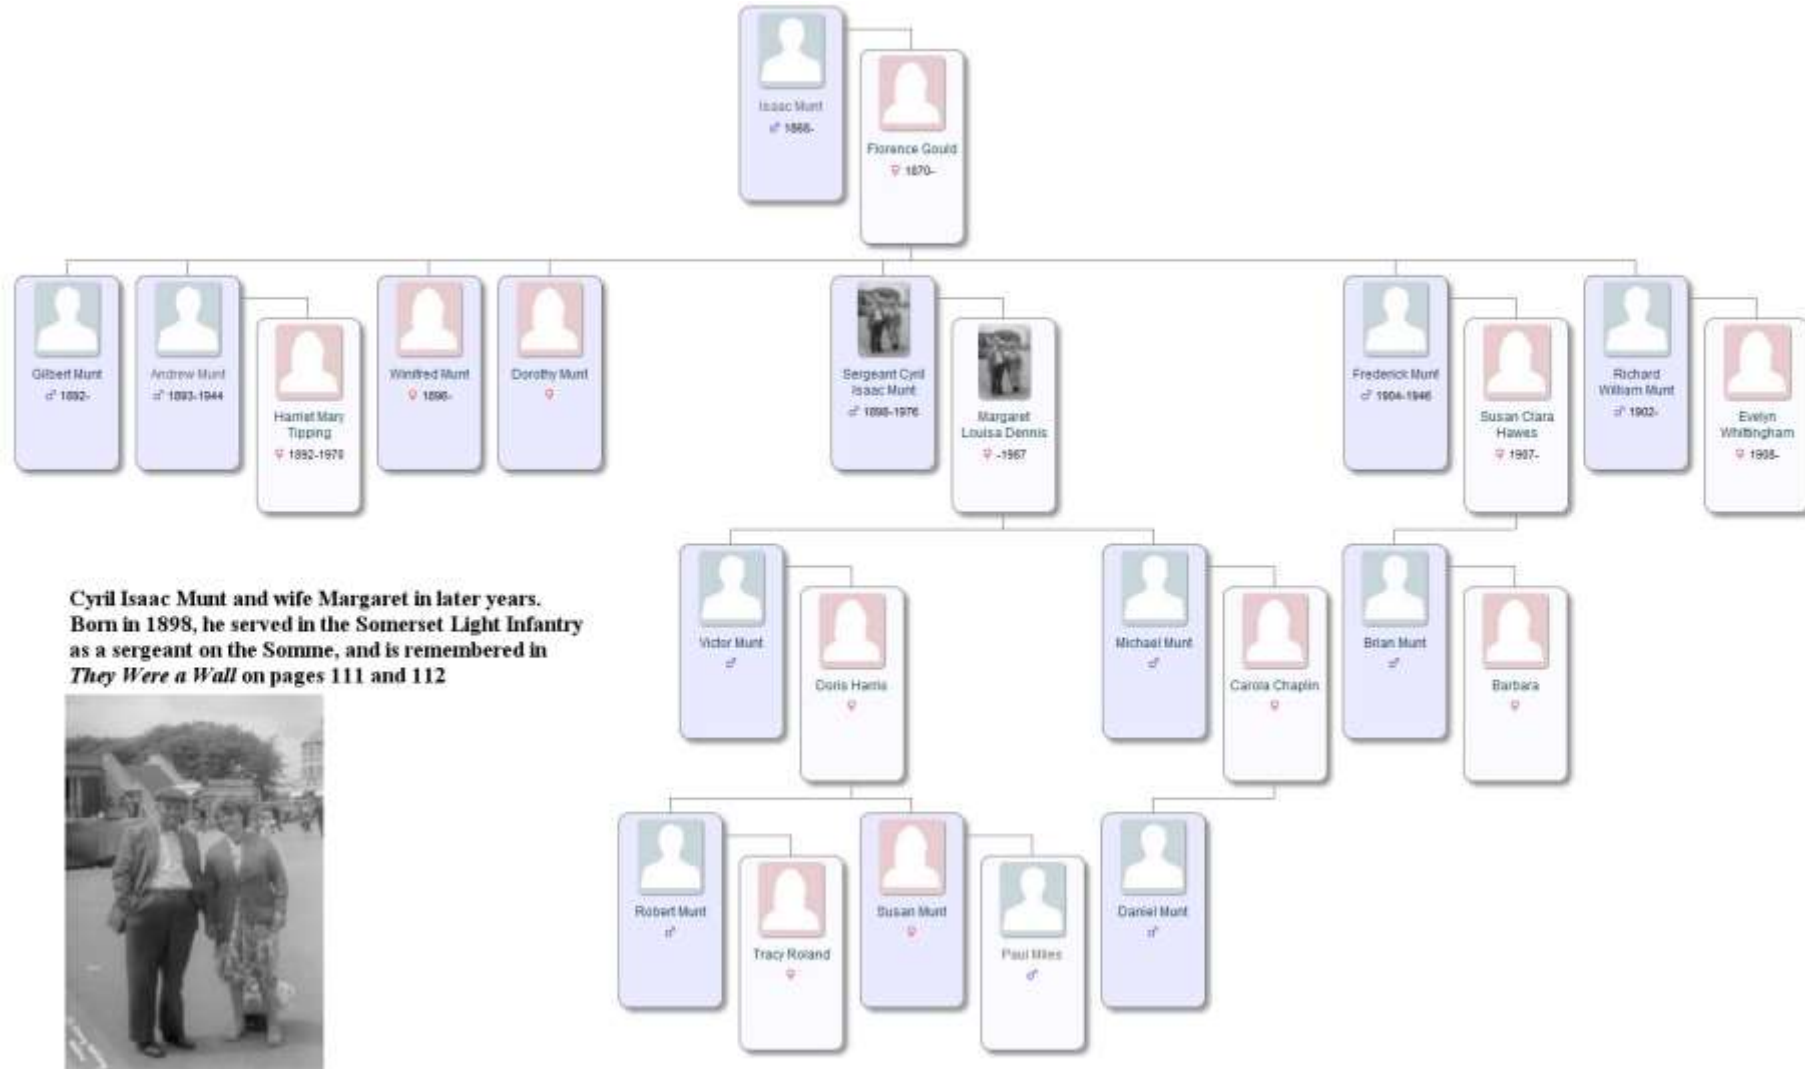

Edgar was a chimney sweep in 1945. At some stage, he lived at 77 High Street, owned by Hubert Munt (not in our list) but mentioned on p. 36 of High Street book.

Search "Edgar Munt" to find this and other records.

Richard James Munt

Richard James Munt

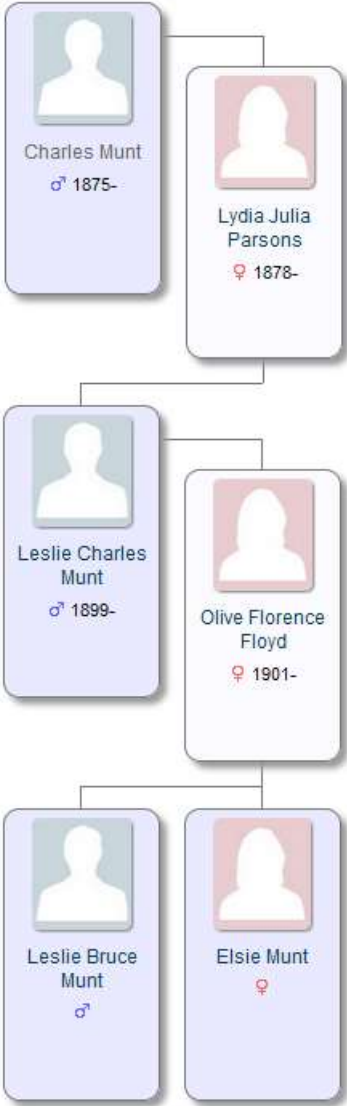

Baptised Richard James Munt in Wheatley Church on 1 November 1895, son of James Munt, gardener's labourer also born in Wheatley (in 1874) and Annie nee Jeffrey, born in Barton, Middlesex in 1869. The family were living at 1 Shotover View, also listed as 11 Littleworth, in 1901 and 1911. Richard James was a market gardener, too, working for his parents on the land behind the house. He served as a Private in the Royal Field Artillery and possibly also in the Royal Flying Corps: the WW1 Medal Rolls Index shows him as a Driver, No. 170972.

Richard James Munt married Daisy Gertrude Heels in Wheatley. She was an upholsteress, born in Hackney London in 1893. He was listed on the Register of Electors in 1921 as living in Littleworth. He died on 20 January 1972. He lived in Littleworth, probably at No. 25. They had a son James Walter Munt b. 1923, seen when he was 14 and later with his aunt Daisy Lily Heels, his mother's sister.

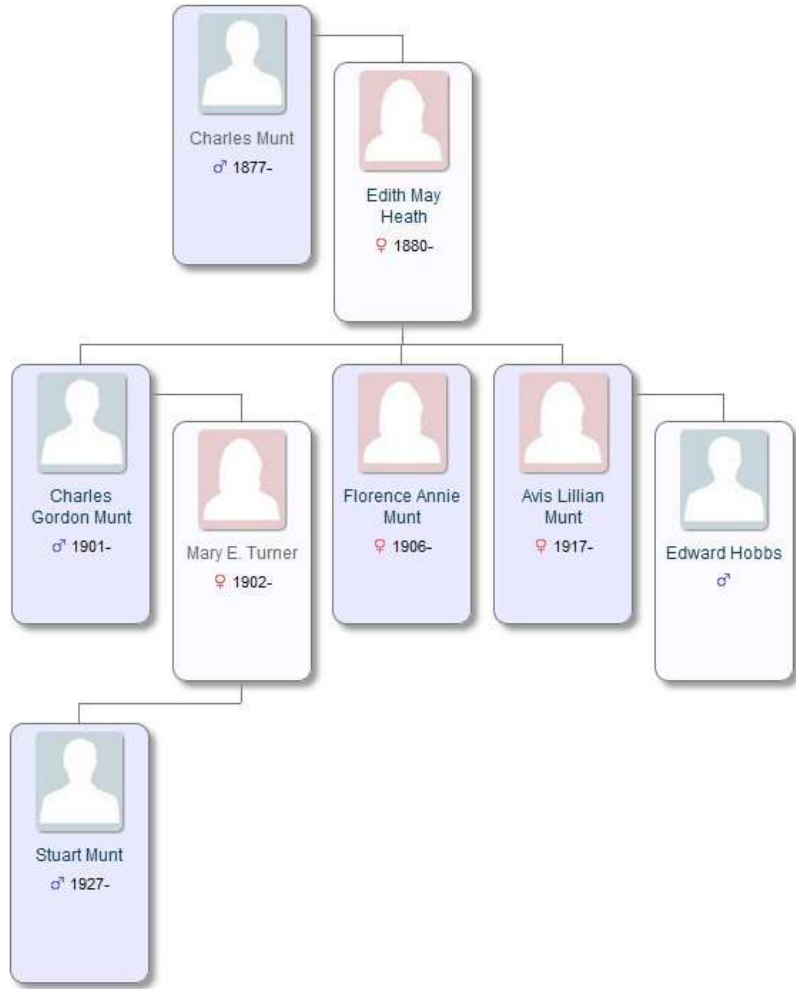

Charles Munt tree b. 1875

Leslie Bruce Munt lived in Ringland Cottage, 55 High Street, in the 1940s with Joan Munt, presumably his wife.

Charles Munt tree b. 1877

Avis Lillian is on the 1921 census but not the 1939 one. Stuart Munt is not on either the 1921 or 1939 census.

In 1911, Charles Munt. with his wife Edith, occupied Clayton Cottage in Church Road. In 1930, Charles Munt bought the plot which is now 18, Old London Road and 33 London Road, selling off part in 1933 to Francis John Fane of Morland House and, later, Westland House, Holloway, Wheatley

Isaac Munt 1895 tree just records his marriage to Celia Messenger.

Archive notes which cannot be attributed to any of the Munts in this record:

Thomas Munt

Wood dealer in 1920 and 1931. Mr. Thomas Munt put up the present 75 and 77- He employed a local builder and the brick was obtained from Littleworth, the timber from Avery's and the stone was local. Thomas Munt owned cottages where the present numbers 69, 71, 75 now stand. Early in the century Hubert Munt owned No. 77 and Edgar Munt occupied it; ownership passed to Thomas Munt from 1934. Thomas occupied No. 75 until it was pulled down. The Munt brothers used to cut bundles of faggots and supplied the Oxford Colleges.

Elizabeth Munt

Elizabeth Munt, of Wheatley and a servant living with the Cooper family in 1861, married George Brown, widower from Stanton St John, on 28 November 1869. But there are no clues as to why the brook, which runs down the hill to the east of Ladder Hill and which never failed, may have been called Betty Brown's Spring, see record 2614.

Emma Munt

In 1925 Leslie Milne bought a plot for Archie Harding and his wife Emma Munt.

George Munt

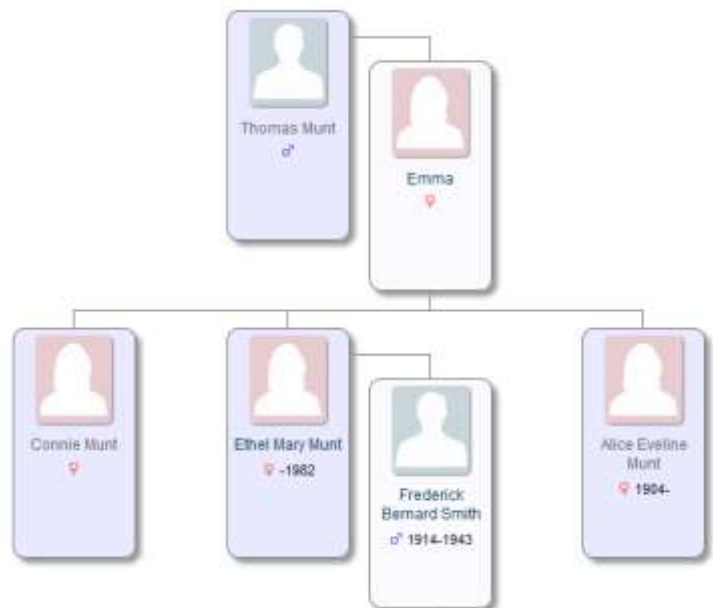

George Clarke, labourer, of Wheatley, was summoned for assaulting George Munt in 1870, who claimed to be hay warden of the common, an office he said he had held for 25 years. See record 2599.

Jim Munt

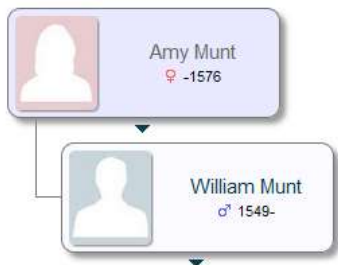

Lived at 73 High Street until it burned down in 1900. He was involved with the windmill restoration.
