

1211 Rev Edward Elton succession to Edward

https://www.headington.org.uk/history/famous_people/elton.htm

He was the eldest child of Edward Fiennes Elton (born in Wheatley in 1861, the son of the Revd Edward Elton, the Vicar there) and Violet Hylda Fletcher (born in Oxford in 1867, the daughter of the Revd Carteret John Halford Fletcher, Rector of Carfax Church).

Godfrey Elton, first Baron Elton of Headington was born in the rectory at Sherington, Newport Pagnell, Buckinghamshire on 29 March 1892.

<https://www.wikitree.com/wiki/Elton-227>

Edward Fiennes Elton, son of Edward Elton and Margaret (Trotman) Elton. There are 3 references to a Margaret in record 1221, the diary extracts, who clearly was Edward's wife.

Edward Fiennes Elton married Violet Hylda (Fletcher) Elton — married 22 Dec 1887 in Oxford, Edwards Fiennes was father of Dorothy Fiennes Elton, Godfrey Elton, Angela (Elton) Lefroy and [private daughter (1920s - unknown)]

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Godfrey_Elton,_1st_Baron_Elton

Godfrey Elton, 1st Baron Elton (29 March 1892 – 18 April 1973), was a British historian, academic and Labour Party politician. Having served in the British Army during the First World War, he was elected a fellow of The Queen's College, Oxford in 1919 and appointed a lecturer in modern history by the University of Oxford. In 1934, he entered the House of Lords, having been made a peer by Ramsay MacDonald. He stepped down from his university posts in 1939 and became secretary of the Rhodes Trust.

Elton was born on 29 March 1892 in Sherington, Oxfordshire, England. He was the eldest son of Edward Fiennes Elton and his wife Violet Hylda Fletcher. He was educated at Rugby School, then an all-boys public school (i.e. independent boarding school).[2] At Balliol College, Oxford, he first studied Literae humaniores (i.e. classics), and gaining a first class in Moderations in 1913. He then changed course to study history. However, he never took his finals as, following the outbreak of the First World War, he volunteered for the British Army.

In the 1934 New Year Honours, it was announced that Elton was to be made a baron "for political and public services".

Lord Elton died at the Dower House in Sutton Bonington, Nottinghamshire on 18 April 1973 aged 81. His son Rodney succeeded him in the peerage and became a Conservative government minister. ~~Lady Elton died in 1977.~~

<https://www.theguardian.com/politics/2023/sep/06/rodney-elton-lord-elton-obituary>

Rodney was married twice, in 1958 to Anne Tilney, with whom he had three daughters, Annabel, Janie and Lucy, and a son, Edward, and after the marriage was dissolved in 1979, he married Susan Gurney, who was a lady of the bedchamber to Queen Elizabeth II. Rodney Elton, Lord Elton, born 2 March 1930; died 19 August 2023. His wife and four children survive him.

Rodney Elton, Lord Elton, born 2 March 1930; died 19 August 2023

Edwards Elton, son of Rodney, is the heir and, perhaps the owner/holder of the Diary.