

75 years ago

Friday, September 13, 1935

Railway station robbery: Wheatley GWR Station was broken into late on Saturday night or early on Sunday. It is thought the thieves were under the impression that the takings at the British Legion fete on Saturday, for which the stationmaster, Mr A. J. Clarke, was treasurer, were in the station safe. They were mistaken, but about £7 in petty cash belonging to the Wheatley branch of the British Legion, as well as a cheque book and a number of other documents, was stolen.

Great rally at Blenheim: More than

OXFORD TIMES
9 Sept 2010